FROM THE PRINCIPAL'S DESK

CA Parag Thakkar
H.C. Principal

Greetings from the staff and students of H.R. College! May the new academic year bring fresh opportunities to help us realize our potential to excel, as we accomplish the set goals.

For H.R. College the year 2018 has begun well. Academic and co-curricular activities continue to be organized with great enthusiasm and commitment. The second semester, beginning with November 2018 will be packed with guest lecture series, seminars, inter-collegiate events - preparation, organization, participation and winning; signing of MOUs and much more.

Students continue to actively participate in social initiatives and build sensitivities to the world outside their college which is not so privileged.

The faculty members have been active in academic ventures and knowledge upgradation. They have been conferred degrees, participated in refresher courses and awarded research projects.

As the year progresses we look forward to a fruitful realization of more projects that we are now actively involved in.

आजच्या स्पर्धात्मक जगात वावरताना आपल्या व्यक्तिमत्त्वाची आगळी वेगळी छाप निर्माण करणं ही काळाची गरज बनली आहे. आपल्यामधील कला-कौशल्यांचा आपल्या व्यक्तिमत्त्वावरच नाही तर आपल्या कारकिर्दीवर प्रभाव असतो. महाविद्यालयीन आयुष्यात कला-कौशल्यांची जडणघडण आपल्यावर वर होत असते. म्हणूनच चर्चगेटमधील एच आर कॉलेजच्या 'यंग लीडर्स क्लब'ने 'स्कील सीरिज'चं आयोजन केलं होतं. या कार्यशाळेत विविध कौशल्यांचा प्रभावी वापर कसा करावा यावर विद्यार्थ्यांना मार्गदर्शन करण्यात आलं. 'महाराष्ट्र टाइम्स' या इव्हेंटचा मीडिया पार्टनर होता.

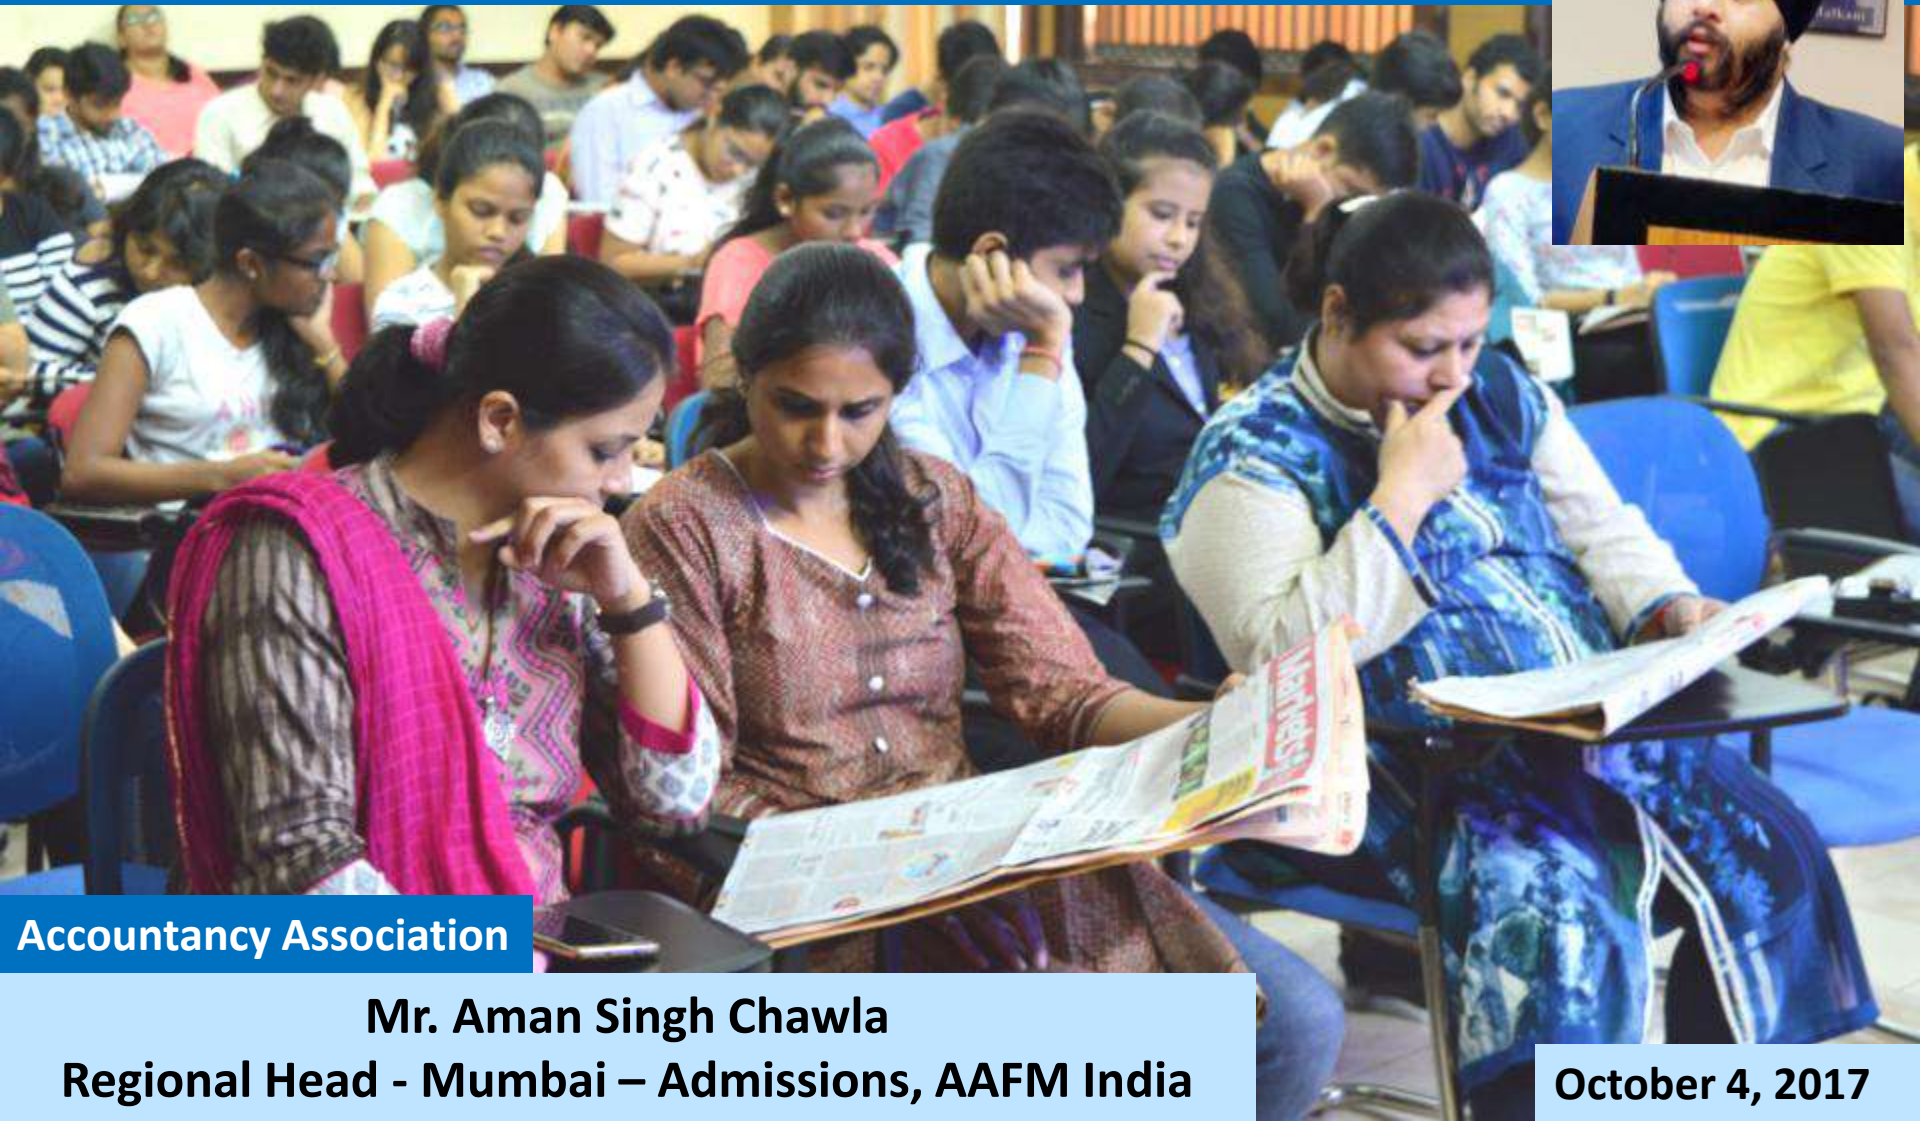

कार्यशाळेच्या पहिल्या दिवशी उद्योजक म्हणून वावरताना आपलं व्यक्तिमत्व कसं असावं व कसं असू नये यावर अमन चावला यांनी विद्यार्थ्यांना मार्गदर्शन केलं. वाणिज्य आणि अर्थशास्त्र म्हटलं की सादरीकरणाचा तास आठवतोच, पण सादरीकरण हे

कशा प्रकारे असावं हे बहुदा विद्यार्थ्यांना माहीत नसतं. एखाद्या विषयावर प्रेझेंटेशन तयार करताना ऑफिस टुल्सचा वापर अचूक कसा करावा? हे चरण प्रीत सिंघ यांनी कार्यशाळेच्या दुसऱ्या दिवशी विद्यार्थ्यांना समजावून सांगितलं. विद्यार्थी म्हणून वावरत असताना परीक्षा आणि त्यासाठी गरजेचा असणारा अभ्यास यात समन्वय साधून कमी वेळेत जास्त गुण कसे मिळवावेत याचं मार्गदर्शन कार्यशाळेच्या तिसऱ्या दिवशी ओजस दोषी यांनी केलं. कार्यशाळेच्या चौथ्या, पाचव्या व सहाव्या दिवशी 'विपणन कौशल्य', 'पब्लिक स्पिकिंग' आणि 'डिजिटल मार्केटिंग' या विषयांवर संजय चौधरी, वर्षा शाह, भरत शर्मा

From Pillai to Post

Daughter of Mumbai domestic household help completes Masters degree at University of Westminster; off to Vienna for an interview to become Vice-President of Junior Enterprise Organization

BOOK NOOD: Varalaxmi does some reading outside her home.

hemalashar@gmail.com

Three years ago in 2008 it felt like a Mumbai girl called Varalaxmi Pillai, whose mother, Shanta Pillai works in a domestic household, help with the Sherill's Scholarship for Women in the University of Westminster, London (UK). Varalaxmi left her Kanjurmarg home and her job with the two children, Thirunavukkarasu, to start a new life. She was 21 at that time. Today, this woman who spent her childhood in a 350-sq foot home, in five central Mumbai suburbs and is still living there with a limited supply of water and electricity, has returned, this time armed with a Masters Degree in International Business and Management. Varalaxmi's moving story epitomizes the spirit of Mumbai and Maharashtra City as it is called — it is not where you come from, but where you make of yourself that counts.

Vienna

In a few days time, this girl who is now 24, will be flying off to Vienna for an interview with an organization called JAIE, which is the European Confederation of Junior Enterprise. Varalaxmi is being considered for the post of the Vice-President, at JAIE. She is confident of getting the post, after which Varalaxmi will be based in Brussels (Belgium) for one year at least, working at JAIE.

Moment

People often refer to something worthy of a picture as a 'Kodak moment'. Varalaxmi calls her Westminster break as a 'life-changing moment'. She completed her Master's Degree successfully gaining a merit rank in London and followed it up by interning with a leading Think and Do Tank Research Company called Tomorrow's Company and the Food Retail chain called Sainsbury's in London.

Life

In the years at Westminster, the bright-eyed, busy-tailed youngster, absorbed lessons like the proverbial sponge, making up all the experiences that a new world could bring. As Varalaxmi says, "When I flew abroad in 2008, it was my first time in an airplane. Everything was such an adventure for me. From leaving my home and going to the airport to simply checking in, it seemed like so much," says Varalaxmi smiling at the memory.

While she studied for her degree, Varalaxmi worked during the term breaks in the summer, which is July to September. "I worked as most office staff at the University itself. It gave me a chance to live at the University which incidentally was just opposite the landmark Madame Tussauds museum and near tourists from all over the world. When there is a term break, the University gives us in empty rooms to students, so they can live from office and staff, it gave me an opportunity to stay in London at the University and meet people from all over the world. Even during my breaks, the windows of the world opened to me and I was fascinated and it thrilled me when I saw London is a very international city, as I was interacting with people from everywhere, while I studied," says the confident young woman.

Degree

Varalaxmi though says that in the course of completing her

THE UNIVERSITY

The University of Westminster (Westminster) is a public research university located in London, United Kingdom. Its antecedent institution, the Royal Polytechnic, was founded in 1838 and was the first polytechnic to open in England. Westminster was awarded university status in 1992.

The University's headquarters and original campus are based on Regent Street in the Westminster area of central London, with additional campuses in the Fitzrovia, Marylebone and Harrow areas of London. The University also operates the Westminster International University in Tashkent in Uzbekistan and a satellite campus in Paris, France. Through the Diplomatic Academy of London, Westminster's academic activities are organised into seven schools, within which there are around 45 departments and 65 research centres.

Westminster is a member of the Association of Commonwealth Universities, the Association of MBAs, EFMD, the European University Association and Universities UK.

MBU, her responsibilities were fostering entrepreneurship amongst students. Varalaxmi also spread the Junior Enterprise concept across the UK, as a recession-proof concept, which students could resort to in tough economic times.

Opportunity

Varalaxmi's first thought even though she appeared naive and new her Kanjurmarg coop. "All through this, my family could not visit me in Europe as tickets are so expensive. Maybe, one day, I will take my mom to Europe; I, in the end, though, want to return to India, and India because these are where my roots are." Incidentally, Varalaxmi's mother still works as a domestic help, "simply

Stanford joins hands with city college to offer cert course

Mumbai: A city college has forged a partnership with Stanford University to offer a certificate course for its graduating students. As part of HR College's tie-up with the SCID (Stanford Centre of International Development), the Ivy League will host 40 students each year for a week-long programme on leadership.

“The SCID has developed the Young Global Leaders Program for students of HR College. This is a dream come true for us,” said HR principal Indu Shahani.

The course will be delivered by leading faculty from Stanford University and will be followed by field visits to blue-chip technology corporations like Google, Apple, Facebook and Tesla, followed by a workshop and exercises at the design school. Scholarships will be raised for some students on merit-cum-need basis to attend the programme. TNN
