CRITERION I – CURRICULAR ASPECTS

1.1 – Curriculum Planning and Implementation

1.1.1 – Institution has the mechanism for well planned curriculum delivery and documentation. Explain in 500 words

HR College provides academic freedom to its staff in curriculum implementation, notwithstanding, the fact that it is affiliated to the University of Mumbai and thus bound to follow the curriculum prescribed by the latter. Faculty members are encouraged to adopt innovative pedagogical methods in coordination with IQAC. Thus the Academic Calendar is prepared by the IQAC at the commencement of the academic year, based on which faculty members prepare teaching plans which are further verified by respective Heads of Departments. Important dates of examinations, project assignments and college results along with events to be held are included in the calendar. The progress of teaching plans is discussed, assessed and monitored in the departmental meetings. Each department puts forth its requirements, regarding reference books related to the curriculum, to the library. Further, teachers also have the autonomy to adopt mid-course deviations and improvise classroom delivery. The college has a Student Academic Council, which is the student representative body comprising class representatives who are invited members to various committee meetings. It provides suggestions on curriculum planning and implementation. Putting together the First Day Brochure which is made for all classes and courses and comprises important information useful for students at the beginning of the year. It includes details of college faculty, time-table, lecture plans, project instructions, schedule and past papers. This brochure is handed over to the students during their Orientation programme held at the beginning of the academic year to which parents, as important stakeholders, are also invited. Submission of daily reports of the lectures conducted during the day and class room allocation charts, prepared by a designated day in-charge, ensures the smooth delivery of lectures. Student Course Packs and Smart Manuals: These course packs and smart manuals are prepared by all departments and include study material, worksheets, tips for toppers, model question papers and suggested readings. Past University papers are also included with suggested answer guidelines. Examination Manual: The Examination Committee prepares a manual on the evaluation system to ensure uniformity in assessment procedure. Examination Committee Templates: The examination committee prepares schedules for the year based on the examination templates that have been developed with the help of the faculty. These templates are ready notices which can be issued with change of dates. This brings uniformity in the examination process. Website: The College updates its website regularly for effective communication of schedules. Updated database of student with their mobile numbers and emails are used to communicate and reinforce the schedule or communicate the latest changes, if any. The institution creates email groups for both faculty members as well as for students to disseminate the information of schedules.

7.2 – Best Practices

7.2.1 – Describe at least two institutional best practices

First Best Practice: Promoting socially conscious intent that develops responsible leadership. 1. The Context: The future of the country is shaped in classrooms. To echo this philosophy the institution makes cautious efforts to produce managers at heart. The idea of channelizing the energy of young minds towards betterment of society to achieve social development for a sustainable future is implemented through various action plans. 2. Objectives: Rising inequality in our society has been one of the key challenges in India. In order to respond to this concern, it is important to address issues of stakeholders with disadvantages and lack of opportunities to bring them in an environment of equitable opportunities. In the process it leads to holistic development of students involved in creating such opportunities.

3. The Practice: At institutional level various student bodies are involved in organising programs, projects and initiatives in both, rural and urban areas to address issues like health, environment, education and employment opportunities. The process involves discussion with people facing the issues, understanding the gravity and making plan of action to execute with help of like minded bunch of students, volunteers and NGOs.

4. Evidence of Success: 1. Social Projects • Spinning Surprises • Project Jalvruddhi • Project Pahal • Social Entrepreneurship-One of the 6 members to represent India at Russia for the same was from Enactus HRC. • HSBC HKU Business Case Study Competition - Enactus H.R. College members presented India at Hong Kong Walmart Economic Empowerment Grant • Handwash Project 2. 5. Problems encountered and Resources required: A big constraint has been acceptance of ideas especially in rural areas. Our student leaders handle the situation with their smart leadership skills. There are limitations of availability of financial resources and geographical reach but with their desire to strive for betterment students through voluntary contribution and corporate collaboration manage to continue the journey towards betterment.

Second Best Practice: Connectedness and Collaborations 1. The Context: The whole world has become one village in post globalisation era resulting into creating opportunities and challenges in the field of commerce and finance. Being an institution of commerce and economics, the impact on the stakeholders is even more significant. Partnership with Academic institutions in India and Abroad, corporate collaborations has become need of the hour. In future such proactive approach shall be helpful for success of the institutions.

2. Objectives: The modern issues require modern solutions. The challenges and requirements of corporate world cant be fulfilled by lone classroom teaching. The skillsets requires, aptitude to become successful can be imparted through Industry Academia partnership. To mark presence in global platform, to get exposure to social, economic, cultural and behavioural environment, the institution believes in tie ups and associations with Universities, Academic institutions etc. for its faculties and students.

3. The Practice: The institution organises various programmes including seminars, workshops, students' exchange programmes, faculty exchange programmes, certificate programmes, soft skill training workshops for quality enhancement in research and education. The constant addition in the partnerships has always been the priority for the institution to widen the horizons for its stakeholders.
